Red-haired Danny, just nineteen years old, has become embroiled in a tense physical relationship with his obsessional older brother, John, when things become further complicated by the involvement of corrupt policeman, James Henderson. Suspecting foul play at the lonely Hope House Farm, Henderson manipulates the situation for his own ends, taking Danny and his blonde-Adonis cousin, Rab, to his bed in return for his silence, Can the brothers rid themselves of this predatory stalker, and will he be replaced by his sister, the carnivorous Katherine, if they do? Set in the bleak north of rural England, DANNY is an obsessional romance from the dark side, and all your darkest fantasies are fully explored in this X-rated Wuthering Height
