“ill at ease” combines the talents of Stephen Bacon, Mark West & Neil Williams and showcases three new tales of the macabre. ‘This slim collection has a kind of menace that is like oil on skin: difficult to remove and persistent. Ill at Ease is a treat, and I hope it finds many readers.’ Conrad Williams, British Fantasy Award winning author of “One” and “Loss Of Separation” ‘The three chilling tales from "Ill at Ease" ably demonstrate that horror can be found in the most mundane places, and a sense of unease is always much closer than we think.’ Gary McMahon, author of “Pretty Little Dead Things” and “The Concrete Grove” More details at www.penmanpress.blogspot.com or join the Facebook Group at <http://www.facebook.com/home.php?sk=g...>
