Three scientists have discovered a theory that could possibly unify all forces, much as Einstein had wanted to do. They put their theory to the test and create a portal called a "Convolution," which opens them to pocket universes where reality takes on as many forms as there are concepts of it. In Episode Four Richard, Nancy and the Professor are swept into a new pocket universe which is the home of the Interlopers, fierce beings who destroy all life. This is a Serial Novel, a series of six episodes that unfolds to a conclusion through cliff hanger endings, much in the vein of the old Republic Serials like Flash Gordon, Batman, Superman and many other golden tales of early Hollywood. On the edge of your seat, nail biting action that just doesn't quit!
