My life began with Eden's kiss and may it end in the same way. We only had one summer together, but it was the most glorious, fun, loving, and passion-filled time of my life. As long as I live, I will carry those memories with me. Eden is going to die at the young age of nineteen and I am going to lose the love of my life. We will never be able to celebrate her twentieth birthday, our first Thanksgiving, Christmas or even New Year's Eve as a couple. Despite that, our love story is not any more special than others, not even if you ignore the fact that her kisses make me feel like I'm the weakest but strongest man in the world. My name is Grayson Kingston and this is the story of the epic love that changed my life forever.
