You might be wondering why any normal grade 7 kid would be writing in a journal, so I'll tell you why. I have this crazy great aunt Hilda who is always doing weird stuff, and so, today she came over to our house and dropped off this journal to me as an "early Christmas present", a week before school starts. Now I don't know who thinks that basically giving a kid a year round writing assignment is a good Christmas gift, and right when great aunt Hilda left I was about to throw this thing right in the trash. Right when I opened the can mom stopped me, and said that it would be a good idea to write in this thing so I have memories when I'm older and it would hurt great aunt Hilda's feelings if I didn't use it. So now I'm stuck writing in this thing for the whole year, and if my older brother Gus finds out about this thing, I'm at his mercy for the rest of his life. My real name's Daniel Kavitz, but you can call me Danny, un you're in my family which has about a million different nicknames for me. I'm going to be a millionaire one day, but for now, thanks to some stupid thing called school, I'm stuck in a classroom learning about ancient artifacts and a bunch of crazy formulas. Anyway, my friend Mac and I are about to make this the best year ever, and we've already got a plan to make it happen.
